May 2014

Dear readers...

Our Bournemouth show went really well at the beginning of March and I join all the exhibitors in thanking everyone who came along. We'd a lovely day and I hope you all enjoyed yourselves as well. I took a bit of a gamble in not having the conventional fashion show. Instead, Denise Musk enthralled us with a display of her many knitted masterpieces. She chatted about yarn, knitting, techniques and construction whilst her designs were modelled by members of Carbery Machine Knitting Club.

The designs are truly inspirational and our heads were buzzing with excitement, after seeing what amazing effects we can achieve on our machines. The presentation was greatly enjoyed by everyone and I'd like to pass on my personal thanks to Denise, Joy Hopkins and members of the club as well as Fiona Morris, who gave us an equally motivating talk. A snippet of exciting news is that Denise will join us shortly as a regular contributor and I'm really looking forward to her first feature.

This month, you'll find the start of our new Club Directory listings on Page 59. Please help us to keep it up-to-date, by completing and sending in the form on Page 29. We've another 'first', as we bring you some truly useful Stash Box designs. They've been knitted by members of Metropolitan's Masterknit Club. For easy-to-knit and wearable patterns, what better place for ideas than club members and every item has been tried and tested. We start with much-requested fingerless gloves and you'll find them on Page 47.

I'm really pleased that we've a new Carl Boyd design this time. Whilst many of us wouldn't have a clue where to start, he's always been a fan of cut 'n' sew. Turn to Page 30 for his step-by-step guide to using a bought pattern to extend the capabilities of a knitting machine. Carl describes the process in detail and shows us how easy it is to create a very classy jacket. You'll be pleased to know that he's in good health and sends his love and best wishes to us all.

So far this year, the weather has been pretty dreadful everywhere in the country. As the proverb predicts, March certainly roared in like a lion but failed to go out like a lamb. Hopefully, though, we'll soon have the sunshine we need to lift our spirits and encourage the May flowers into bloom.

Anne Smith, Editor

On your marks

These stitch markers have the added benefit that we can clip on a note, so we never lose track. The marker locks, so we don't drop stitches and a notepad is supplied so all we need is a pen. The pack contains three green and three purple locking stitch markers and the RRP is £6.25. Clover products are available from all good craft, knitting and hobby shops. Contact Clover mail at clover@stockistenquiries.co.uk for stockists.

Woolly bike trail

Cassandra Kilbride is a yarn-stormer and for the Yorkshire Festival she's called for volunteers to help create ten woolly bikes. Anyone can take part at the 20 free workshops across Yorkshire to knit, crochet, sew or weave a bit of a bike. The woolly bicycles will be exhibited throughout July 2014 at Sheffield Cathedral and the Festival is the first in the Tour de France's 111 year history. The programme is at www.festival.yorkshire.com

Olympics double gold

Coats plc had a stand at the annual international trade fair Handarbeit + Hobby, held in Cologne. Winter Olympics double gold medallist Rosi Mittermaier showed off her hand-knitting skills and helped launch a new crafts initiative for German schools. The 65 years - 65 schools campaign marks the 65th anniversary of the creation of Regia sock yarn, produced by Coats Crafts brand Schachenmayr and will provide 65 schools over Germany with free materials and instructions for their handicraft classes. Michael Schofer, CEO, Global Crafts, Coats plc, said, "Rosi is a keen hand knitter so her support of our 65 years - 65 schools campaign is very welcome. Crafting skills such as knitting and crocheting are for people of all ages and it is important we promote the teaching of traditional handicraft techniques in schools to ensure children develop the basic skills from an early age." Rosi Mittermaier said, "This campaign encourages children's creativity and motor skills. In addition, the pride of creating something themselves is an extremely important and beneficial experience for the young." Crafts materials will be delivered to the schools for use during the German school year starting this August. Dare we dream that something similar might happen in schools across the UK?

Textured tat

Tatting is a craft many enjoy, so look out for this new shuttle. Its textured surface is easy to hold, the curved point picks up picots with ease and the shuttle is perfect for using with beads and large designs. There's a free app on the pack to learn more. Available in blue, silver and gold, Ref CL8101, the RRP is £8.99. Clover products are available from all good knitting, craft and hobby shops. For stockists email clover@stockistenquiries.co.uk

Happy bags

At last we can have a reusable bag with a fabulous design that doesn't advertise a supermarket. The City Series includes London, New York, Paris, Italy and San Francisco. Bold and bright, useful and lasting for life this shopper can be rolled into a tube, folded flat or stuffed into its own inner pocket. It's 50 x 42 cm and can be carried by handles or over the shoulder. The zip pouch doubles as a coin purse and the bag comes in farm and fruit themes as well. It carries around 20 kilos, is water resistant, won't fade and costs £6.95. For details or to order, call 01508-549922 or visit www.happybags.co.uk

Natural charms

It's easy to make a gift special and Natural Charms Rustic Heart ribbons from Berisfords provide the perfect finishing touch for special gifts, cards and table decorations. Available in five designs and eight colours, this woven jacquard ribbon is 15 mm wide and in eight colours - grey, pink, blue, royal, red, green, brown and black. Space craft Habitat and the Crafts Council join forces to create an exhibition exploring the relationship between architecture and making. Platform, at Habitat on King's Road, London is the launch pad for the touring exhibition timed to coincide with Collect, the art fair for contemporary objects at the Saatchi Gallery from 9th to 12th May. The exhibition also hosts a specialist willow weaving workshop on Saturday 10th May from 10.30 am to 3.30 pm. Tickets are available from Platform at King's Road or www.habitat.co.uk and cost £40.

Taste and class

Six spectacular tapestries by 2003 Turner Prize winning artist Grayson Perry, will be on show at the Walker Art Gallery in Liverpool. Perry designed the tapestries as part of a Channel 4 series, All in the Best Possible Taste, when Perry went "on a safari amongst the taste tribes of Britain" (Perry), investigating the tastes of the working class in Sunderland, middle class in Tunbridge Wells and upper class in the Cotswolds. Vivid colours, remarkable textures, contrasting patterns and an intriguing commentary "not only delights the eye but also sparks debate about class, taste and British society" (Perry). The Vanity of Small Differences goes on display from the evening of 16th May to 10th August 2014.

Handcrafted

Hand knitted treats make gorgeous gifts for those you love, so wrap up and trim with this perfect hand knitted message which says it all! RRP is from 70p per metre depending on design, width and roll size. For stockists, call Berisfords on 01453-883581, email Berisfords@stockistenquiries.co.uk or visit www.berisfords-ribbons.co.uk

Heritage skills

Rediscover traditional skills and unleash your creativity in the Black Country Living Museum. A beginner's course for Willow Basket Weaving is on Saturday 10th May from 10.00 am to 4.00 pm. It's a full day with expert tuition, materials and tools provided. Learn about techniques and traditions and take home your own finished round basket. The maximum number of places is 8 and the cost is £50 per person. Courses are advanced booking only, so visit www.bclbmbookings.co.uk or call 0121-520 8054.

Crafty fun

You'll be thrilled at how inventive kids can be if you rustle up some remnants, beads and trimmings. Collect basic items from Hemline and transform your scraps into prized works of art. Personalise a bag, T-shirt or fashion accessory with letters you iron on or embellish with beads, sequins, buttons and gemstone glue. Make greetings cards by attaching fabrics, feathers and trims with craft glue. There are nifty gadgets for making a pon-pon and knitted cord plus craft stackers and storage organisers. You'll be amazed at the Hemline range, so email groves@stockistenquiries.co.uk for stockists.

Scottish show

Don't forget Scotland's Knitting Only Show on Saturday 17th May 2014 in the Roths Halls, Roth's Square, Glenrothes, Fife KY7 6YJ. Further details are on the website at www.scottishmachineknitters.org.uk

30th anniversary

Celebrating its 30th anniversary, the Weald of Kent Craft & Design Show takes place from 3rd to 5th May at Penshurst Place & Gardens near Tonbridge. Visitors can buy items from over 250 craftspeople, listen to live music and enjoy fine food. A special advance combined ticket (£10) gives entry to the craft show, the family manor house and the Tudor walled gardens. The show opens from 9.30 am to 5.00 pm (Sat 5.30 pm) so call the ticket hotline on 01425-277988 or visit www.ichfevents.co.uk

Charity knits

Here are some members of Priory Knits MKC presenting a cheque for £310 to Andy Davies of their chosen 2013 charity, SERV. Better known as blood runners, these volunteers move such things as blood and breast milk for hospitals in emergencies. Chairman Sue Castro (holding the cheque) told us they raised most of the money by selling machine-knitted items during Hastings Week 2013. They'll be doing the same thing this year, so look out for them in Priory Meadow from 11th to 19th October. (The 948th anniversary of the Battle of Hastings is 14th October.) If you'd like to know more about Priory Knits call Sue Castro on 01424-437468 after 6.00 pm or email her at sue@1066.net

Tyneside knitting

Hi Anne

I wonder if you know of any machine knitting classes near Newcastle-upon-Tyne? I need a refresher course, as I haven't used my machine in the last few years. Thanks, Lynne Barras
If you can help, then please get in touch. In the meantime Lynne, why not think about joining Dunston Machine Knitting Club. Members meet on the second Wednesday of each month from 1.00 to 3.00 pm at Dunston Community Centre in Railway Street, Gateshead NE11 9EB. Your contact is Christine Crosby and you can call her on 0191-378 0083 or email jcrosby@talktalk.net

Changing times

Dear Anne

At the K&C Guild we recently received an application for membership which was sent to an out-of-date contact. Would you make sure, please, that any of your readers who are interested in membership of KCG contact our current treasurer, Tricia Basham and her details are given below. Thanks very much, Elspeth May, Director, KCG. Fond farewell

Dear Anne

Dunston MKC and others in the area were run for many years by Marion Wheaton, who was the driving force behind machine knitting in the North East. Unfortunately Marion has been ill and can't carry on running the club. All the members would like to wish her well and thank her for all she's done for machine knitters in the area. Many thanks and best wishes, Christine Crosby. Tel 0191-378 0083

Penny Competition

Members of Priory Knits MKC in Hastings make blankets using a tried and tested formula so everyone has a chance to take part. The squares are start and end on waste yarn, so they can be adjusted. Each Christmas the club holds a competition and the winner chooses the charity to support the following year. Pat Wright is shown here, presented with her trophy by Cllr Eve Martin. For 2014 she's chosen Barby Keel Animal Sanctuary, Charity No. 1095382, so members will knit a blanket with animal motifs. They'll also fund raise by selling small knitted items and holding a raffle. If you'd like to know more about Priory Knits, call Sue Castro on 01424-437468 after 6.00 pm or email her at sue@1066.net

Beryl Jarvis

Clubs, have you seen my Info Slide Show yet? Depicting most of the subjects of my Info Sheets, machine knitting hints and tips, it's interesting and informative whatever level of skill you have. Other topics include a General Talk, Machine Knitted Lace, Making up, Jacquard, Brother KH970, Tension - What's That? Alternatively, please suggest any other topic you'd like me to cover. Workshops can always be geared to your members' specific requirements. You can also come to me for a day's workshop in my home and enjoy lunch in the local garden centre - please call me on 01664 850418 to discuss.

I know many knitters have learnt techniques from my Info Sheets so now I've taken three of them - 1.3 Holding Position Shoulders and Necks, 1.11 Figure of Eight Cast Off and 1.4 Neckbands and produced a new DVD. On a DVD I can show so much more than just the written text and many knitters prefer this format. It lasts 45 minutes and costs £10 plus £1.50 p&p. My first DVD Beryl's Mock 'V' is still available and as it's an hour and a half long, it's £20 plus £1.50 p&p. I've also had to re-visit postage on my list of Info Sheets, so for details please email beryl.jarvis@ntlworld.com or send an sae to Beryl Jarvis, 90 Asfordby Road, Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire LE13 0HR.

Congratulations

Dear Anne

Congratulations on such a successful Machine Knitting LIVE! at Bournemouth this year. So many of those attending were wearing their creations and were very willing to show them off and explain the finer details. On the Carbery Club stand, we were delighted to meet and talk to many machine knitters thinking of returning to the craft, as well as to new recruits. The sheer numbers of people attending the two speakers' talks showed the enthusiasm there is for new designs and techniques. It was so refreshing to see how Denise Musk's garments were so well received and admired. Fiona Morris' talk also was much appreciated by those of us wanting to improve our knitting skills. So please accept a huge thank you, Anne, for once again giving us a show to remember. Best wishes, Joy Hopkins, Carbery MKC. Thanks so much for your kind words, Joy and I'm pleased to let you know that Denise is soon to join us as a contributor. Ed

FOR ALL YOUR MACHINE KNITTING NEEDS

Dear Anne

This month we've lots to tell and share. If you've a favourite suggestion, a story to tell or a point to make then share it with us by writing to Anne at the usual address on page 3 or email mail@machineknittingmonthly.net

Neck to neck

Dear Anne

I have a question concerning the neckband for the Tiny Tots cardigan in the February edition of MKM, on Page 20. I've finished the cardigan in the second size listed and all is well, except the neckband is a bit tight. There's only one neckband listed for all sizes. My question is, "Is the neckband of 60 sts correct for all sizes"? For my size, I had to place 160 sts on the 60 stitches of the neckband. Thank you so much for an answer, Jo Nicholas

Hi Jo, I've spoken to Bea Roberts, who designed and made this lovely top. It's actually been given away, so we can't count the stitches. Nevertheless a bit of leeway is always a sensible guideline when machine knitting. Bea says her Brother machine with ribber has always knitted loose ribs, so she tends to compensate by using less stitches. She's 'tinkered around' with some samples and suggests that increasing the number of stitches up to (say) 90 should still produce a snug fit. On the other hand she recommends not making the neckband too loose, as it doesn't have to be pulled over the head. It is a lovely little top and we hope these guidelines will help. Ed

UP AND RUNNING

Hello Anne

Just a short note to thank you for mentioning in the magazine about my plight at having missed my machine knitting. You advertised that I wanted a double knitting machine and a lovely lady had just what I needed and arranged to bring it to me. Now I can get on with my premature baby knitting and will send you photos as soon as I get a collection together. Once again Anne, many thanks for your help and happy knitting, Pat Moss

LINKED IN

Hi Anne

I thought you might like to let readers know about Passap People, the Yahoo group which helps beginners and shares ideas with experienced knitters too. I got a Pinkie recently and the group and group owner have been extremely helpful so here's the link. <https://groups.yahoo.com/neo/groups/PassapPeople/info> Thanks and best wishes, Margaret Green

SO WHAT?

Dear Anne

My home is currently a workshop, as my son currently has three (or is it four?) jobs on hand because each is affected by the weather. It's either an outside job or it needs outside access for equipment such as an angle grinder and suchlike esoteric instruments. So what? It means that my workroom is providing temporary storage, so I can't access my knitting machine! I've had to go back to hand knitting and crochet to 'get my fix' by making hats, scarves and soft toys such as teddy bears, Goldilocks, a flat dog and even a blue dragon! MKM comes as a welcome reminder and I carefully read the letters page to see what other readers are thinking and knitting. I love many of the patterns, too, but would not be tempted to make them. For example, as an older (!) woman who has no grandchildren, I'm not tempted by baby and children's clothes. At present I'm making a patchwork cushion cover, which is made like a bag with a gathering band at the top, to help shape it round a gently curved corner. When (or if) I ever get access to my machine, I'll try it out as a comparison and let you know how I get on! Best wishes to you all, Edna Cahill

MASTERCLASS

ONE PIECE waterfall

We all fall in love with Bill King's designs, so he brings us a waterfall version of his amazing one-piece design

COPYRIGHT ISSUE

Hi Anne

I run the Drayton Machine Knitting Club in Portsmouth. We've about 33 members and we're well aware of the copyright problem. On line I saw a woman in the States selling cardigans she had knitted for $60 / $70 depending on the yarn. These were knitted from Bill King's all-in-one pattern. She thought that as she'd bought the magazine, it made the pattern 'free', therefore copyright did not matter. I do realise that copyright is different in the States, but reading the small print at the front of MKM, one needs to contact the creator of the pattern before using it to sell. Some designers have printed on every page of their pattern books wording such as 'for the use of one person'. I fully understand this, as I write my own patterns and have found ladies at club counting rows and making notes of my garments! I guess I should be flattered but sorry, I've a real bee in my bonnet over this. I do hope that you can let us know why copyright is so important. Best wishes, Christine Linfield

If anyone reading this cares, the American woman is totally infringing Bill's copyright. I've seen the design and variations on her website and it's a direct copy of Bill's waterfall top in our November 2012 magazine. The copyright of someone's work isn't automatically transferred to another simply by the purchase of a magazine, pattern or book. No-one can use the work of another for their own business and/or personal gain, unless they have prior written permission.

Professional designers retain the copyright of their work, unless it is legally assigned. I'm sorry to be so blunt but no-one can run a knitting business by reproducing the work of another designer and selling it as their own. They must produce their own designs, if they intend selling their knitting to other people. Quite frankly, if this woman (or anyone in a similar position) doesn't have an original idea in their head and needs to copy other genuine designer's patterns to earn a living, then they should go and stand on a street corner instead. Ed

TECHNICAL HITCH

Hello Anne

I had a query yesterday about knitting

Lace inspiration

Dear Anne

I am writing to thank you for the beautiful article that you published in the February issue of Machine Knitting Monthly. Kathleen worked very hard creating the 'Inspiration of Lace Knitting' book and did a beautiful job of it. I was thrilled when Kathleen told me she had that book on CD and it was never published due to various reasons. I couldn't stand to have it not being available for the public. If anyone wants to know about lace, it certainly is the book to have. Being useful to hand knitters as well as machine knitters makes this wonderful book useful to everyone. Again, thank you very much! Sincerely, Linda Williams, Country Knitting Of Maine, 351 White Schoolhouse Road, Madison, ME 04950-3202.

Check out Linda's website at www.countryknittingofmaine.com Ed the Andrea Levick pattern in the February 2014 issue of MKM. The lady was puzzled by the lock settings not seeming right for the E6000. The pattern says it is for the S, 80 and E6000. It actually needs a reader sheet or equivalent that's 1 row by 20 sts, 10 black and 10 white with Tech 180. I've just had a play and it seems to work! I thought I'd better let you know, in case anyone else queries it. Best wishes, Ann Baker, Membership Secretary, GMK

Many thanks for this Ann and as Andy died many years ago, we can't check it out with her, so your suggestion is much appreciated. Ed

Carl Boyd's new design uses the cut 'n' sew technique for a truly professional look

With the renewed interest in sewing and dressmaking, our editor Anne felt it would be a good time to do a complete cut and sew garment for the magazine. I've always been a big fan of cut and sew, having spent years in dressmaking, long before I became a machine knitter. When I chose the jacket pattern, I didn't realise it was a dolman sleeve until I received it. This of course causes problems, as fabric wide enough to cut a dolman sleeve can't be knitted on the machine, so my immediate reaction was to get another pattern with a set in sleeve. However I realised it was a wonderful opportunity to show how easy it is to join two pieces of knitting together, almost invisibly, by mattress stitching on the right side. This makes pattern matching much simpler, as you can see in Photos 1 and 2. However, if you choose a garment with set in sleeves it makes life much easier.

The first thing to do after opening the pattern is to spread it out on a flat surface. You'll probably have three main pieces - the Back, Front and Sleeve. The Back will need to be placed on a fold line, which means you'll have to double the Back measurement when calculating the size you need to knit. Let's assume the Back, after doubling at the widest point, is 20 inches and the length is 27 inches. Add 2 inches to both measurements and, using your test swatch, calculate how many stitches and rows are required. My test swatch was 32 stitches and 36 rows to 10 cm (4 inches) so I'd need to cast on 176 stitches and knit 260 rows to cover 22 inches by 29 inches. Do this with all the pattern pieces you need.

CHOICES

The pattern I chose was Kwik Sew 3564 from a company with which I wasn’t familiar. Having used the pattern I do have issues with it and the first thing is the seam allowance. They only allow $\frac{1}{4}$ inch, when most other patterns have a seam allowance of $\frac{3}{8}$ inch. As I’m more used to a larger seam allowance, I increased it. The jacket front has no interfacing, which is a definite ‘no no’ for me - especially so as I’m working with a knitted fabric, which will be floppy.

PREPARATION

If you decide to use the same pattern

as I did, first prepare the pattern by selecting the size required. Simply lay a ruler along the seam line and extend the line through to the shoulder, as shown in Photo 3.

When calculating stitches and rows, you must treat the Sleeve and Front as two separate pieces.

Remember also that the Sleeve knitting must be in the same direction as the Front and the pattern on the seam must match. So adjust accordingly, allowing three extra stitches for the seam. Having completed the knitting, block all pieces to the chosen size and press according to the yarn label. After joining the two pieces of fabric together, lay it on a flat surface and place the pattern Front on top, as shown in Photo 4.

Make sure the join is exactly in line with the line you drew on the pattern for the size you’re making. In my case this was the pink line, which is the small size to fit 34 inch bust. Increase the seam allowance to $\frac{3}{8}$ inch, as shown in Photo 5. I’ve also drawn a black line, indicated by red arrows, which is the cutting line for the interfacing.

After cutting out the Front, cut a piece of cotton iron-on interfacing to fit the shape indicated on Photo 5 and iron it onto the wrong side of the Front as shown in Photo 6.

This completes all the cut and sew preparation and you’re now ready to construct the jacket by following the making up instructions in the chosen pattern. Cut ‘n’ sew is a wonderful way to extend the versatility of machine knitting, so I urge you all to discover this great technique for yourself. ■

NECKBAND

Sew shaped row ends of rib inserts to shaped row end edges of front opening, but don't sew cast on edges of rib inserts in place just yet. Join both shoulder seams. Note there are more sts along front shoulder edge than back shoulder edge as an allowance has been made for rib insert, but both edges should be same length. With 3¾ mm needles and right side facing, slip 10 [10, 11] sts on right rib insert holder onto right needle, rejoin MY and pick up and K 20 [20, 22] sts up right side of neck, 36 [40, 42] sts from back, and 20 [20, 22] sts down left side of neck, then rib across 10 [10, 11] sts on left rib insert holder. 96 [100, 108] sts. Keeping rib correct as set by sts which were on holders and still working first and last st on every row as a K st, work in rib across all sts for 15 rows, ending with a wrong side row. Cast off in rib.

BUTTON BAND

With 3¾ mm needles and right side facing, join in MY. Pick up and K 48 [52, 56] sts evenly along one side of front opening (left front for a woman, or right front for a man) between cast on edge of rib insert and cast off edge of neckband. 1st row (wrong side) K 1, * P 2, K 2; rep from * to last 3 sts, P 2, K 1. 2nd row K 3, * P 2, K 2; rep from * to last st, K 1. Rep last 2 rows for 3 further rows, ending with a wrong side row. Cast off in rib.

BUTTONHOLE BAND

With 3¾ mm needles and right side facing, join in MY and pick up and K 48 [52, 56] sts evenly along other side of front opening, between cast on edge of rib insert and cast off edge of neckband. Cont in rib as given for button band and work 1 row.

Helpline

Reader Margaret Barnes called to ask if we could publish a pattern for a simple Fisherman's rib sweater. Those from the late Andy Levick's collection were just the ticket, but Margaret has a Brother machine and ribber not a Passap. Here's a pattern to cut out and keep. In every size you're likely to need and we've also given the option of a polo or crew neckline.

FRIENDLY FACES

A jolly clown or comforting nurse is just the thing to cheer up tired or tearful children

MEASUREMENTS

Cushion size is approximately 38 cm, 15 in square.

TENSION

No tension square necessary (tension dial setting approximately 7).

ABBREVIATIONS

For a list of abbreviations we use, please turn to page 62.

NOTES

We used knit side of knitting as right side of cushions. When shaping in HP, take yarn round first inside N in HP to prevent a hole forming.

PATTERN RATING

Easy to knit.

MACHINES

This pattern is suitable for standard gauge machines. Follow instructions on Page 62 to convert it for other models.

MATERIALS

Take a break and browse around our Trading Post. There's a great selection of machine knitting items you can order directly through us.

ORDERING IS EASY

Simply fill in the coupon or write out your order on a plain sheet of paper and send it to us, together with your remittance. We can accept cheques or postal orders. Alternatively, call us on 01628-783080 and place your order by telephone. We can accept most cards including Mastercard, Maestro/ Switch, Am-Ex and Visa. Please do not send cash.

AVAILABILITY

We do not anticipate that any item will be sold out, although all items are offered for sale subject to availability. It is possible that prices may have to change without notice, due to circumstances beyond our control. However, this is unlikely to happen if an order is placed whilst the current magazine is on sale. If you are concerned about availability and cost, please telephone us before ordering.

DELIVERY

You can shop with confidence in the Trading Post, because all orders will be sent to you direct from the manufacturer. All orders will be processed promptly, but you should allow 28 days for delivery. Please include a telephone number with your order; it will be treated with strictest confidence but will speed up delivery of your order should there be a query. If you have any queries, we shall be pleased to help if you telephone us on 01628-783080.

MINIMUM TOTAL ORDER

There is a minimum total order value of £5.00.

POSTAL CHARGES

There is no additional charge for postage and packing in the UK. Prices quoted are fully inclusive. Overseas postage is charged at cost.

RETURNS

If you should have reason to return any goods purchased through Trading Post, please contact the supplier direct. We regret that we are unable to accept returned goods at our offices, but we will investigate any complaints.

Festival fun

Tony Bennett tells us about a wonderful machine-knitting event to be held in New Zealand this summer

One of the stand-out highlights for a machine knitter's calendar this year simply has to be the festival to be held at Palmerston North in New Zealand. The Manawatu Area presents Fibre To Fabric; a Festival of Crafted Creations. If you're in that part of the world at that time, mark the date in your diary; the festival is from Tuesday 15th to Saturday 19th July 2014. I feel incredibly fortunate to have been invited to demo at this year's festival. My previous visits to New Zealand seminars have been an amazing experience and I can say that the vibe and atmosphere at these events is second to none. The festival offers a brilliant opportunity to catch up with old friends, meet new like-minded crafters, enjoy a great cross-section of lecture topics and see an exceptionally beautiful part of the world.

TOP TUITION

Tutors this year include Anne Baxter, Doreen Berge, Marilyn Clement, Rose Fitness, Dianne McEwen, Heather Smith, Lynn Evans, Barbara Wills, Jo Johnson and myself. I've read the range of workshops on offer and I can guarantee that there's something to appeal to all levels of knitting from those new to the craft right through to the more experienced knitters amongst you. As a bonus, not all workshops are knit focused. A number are more craft oriented, yet can still relate or connect in a special way. This diversity is, in my opinion, an extremely well planned concept, providing a range of topics and options that has the potential not only to inform but also to inspire.

SEE THE SIGHTS

In addition to the amazing lectures on offer, there's also a great range of local tours covering some very interesting and varied options. Amongst these are visits to the national Waiohuru Army Museum, the New Zealand Rugby museum, Tui Brewery, the Chronicle Glass Studio, Owlcatraz Native Bird and Wildlife Park. With much more than this on offer, there's something here to appeal to everyone. If you can bring along your partner for a fabulous break in breathtaking New Zealand, there's something to keep him or her entertained during the day time, whilst you're at selected lectures.

Fibre to Fabric

NIGHT LIFE

Evenings at festival are also great fun. Each night, of course, there are a number of dinners, parades and entertainment and amongst my favourites are the 'make and model' competitions. There are two options here for either a single item or a multi-piece outfit. The items are created by

Be creative!

In July 1993, Tony Bennett and Robert Bettini started trading as Dormani Designs. Still flying the flag in 2013, Tony gives talks about machine knitting and fashion trends and runs workshops for machine knitters. He's travelled to New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, Western Australia and across to New Zealand. Please contact him direct for details. the individual knitters who, as the title suggests, then models their items for the judging panel. I personally always find this a highlight of the festival.

COMPETITIONS

While on the subject of festival competitions, the New Zealand society have possibly the most comprehensive selection of categories that I think I've ever seen. To the full credit of festival attendees, the number of entries is usually quite outstanding. This, of course, gives a stunning visual of knitted items which yet again inspires us and shows the amazing potential of our much-loved machines. This year speciality yarn suppliers Dea Yarns are also proud to be sponsoring a special competition. The criterion is simply any garment or article made with Dea Yarns and prizes will be awarded for 1st, 2nd and 3rd places. It's great to see local companies supporting the craft, so well done guys.

SPECIAL GUEST

Another very special highlight this year will feature a display by very creative New Zealand designer Laurel Judd as Guest Exhibitor and Champion of Champions 2013. Be sure to check this out and, personally knowing Laurel's work, I'm sure it will be stunning. I'm sure you can guess that I've given you just a snapshot of what the festival is all about. For more comprehensive details contact jan.col@clear.net.nz or look on the festival website at www.nzmk.org.nz. It would be really great to catch up with you in Palmerston North in July and I hope to see you there. ■

Be creative, Tony

Fair Isle without Deco

With many obsolete machines coming back onto the market, expert Alice Wilmshurst guides us through the pros and cons of using some of them

Many old and obsolete machines are coming onto the market. Machines that were discarded as useless many years ago (and perhaps should have stayed up in the attic) have been sold and bought by new knitters who suddenly discover the joy of machine knitting. However, they also discover that the machine can't do all they'd hoped for. Many of these new knitters then try to update their new treasure, only to find that the cost is prohibitive or the task is impossible because vital parts can no longer be obtained. In such circumstances, what can they do? They can part exchange it for a newer machine, so this old relic is then sold and bought again to renew and continue the circle. Alternatively, they can learn to use it as it stands without spending a small fortune on it.

MOVE IT!

First I'll deal with the old type of yarn mast. By this I mean, the yarn mast which moves as and when the lock changes position. This really is an absolute pain and, personally, I'd not tolerate its crankiness. Having had one I speak from experience and, in my opinion, this must be altered at any cost. It should be changed, before the inexperienced knitter loses what little confidence he or she has, for a two or four colour changer if funds permit. However, should money be so tight that even this can't be considered then new knitters must remember that simplicity is the order of the day.

It's also good to remember that this is how the machine was used many years ago by hundreds, if not thousands of happy knitters. At this point, may I make a plea? Even though your Passap machine is very old, please forget stocking stitch and concentrate on the one stitch Japanese machines can't do, unless they have a ribber. Fisherman's rib and half Fisherman's rib need a ribber or a double bed. These stitches are very popular, will not go out of fashion and are the two stitches which will 'sell' garments.

LACK LUSTRE

Let's now suppose that the yarn mast isn't the problem. What if the problem is simply a lack of punchcard facility with no Deco and Deco rail. Where should new knitters turn next? First of all, remember that this is by no means a catastrophe. After all, the Deco hasn't been in use all that long, so hundreds of knitters still remember knitting without the magic of a punchcard and here's what to do.

Method Use squared paper if you're creating your own designs, otherwise look at your punchcard or photocopy of your punchcard. Remember that each hole represents a pusher in use and a blank represents a pusher at rest; it's simple! When using squared paper each square or pusher will become a stitch in what we'll call Colour 1. What you must do (and this applies to Deco knitting as well as hand selection) is knit two rows with Colour 1. This is called the trimming colour in the old books. Next knit two rows with the background colour, called basic colour in old books. The row counter shows 004.

Top tip What you must also do is put the handle down and use pink, orange or blue strippers with fine yarn. Knit with nothing thicker than 3-ply or two ends of 2/30s industrial yarn. Also have the back bed pushers in a '1 up, 1 down' formation, together with BX↔ (left and right arrow keys) on the back bed and BX↔ (left arrow key) on the front bed if you're knitting a two-colour design. The back bed remains in the '1 up, 1 down' position while knitting.

These are set according to the 'picture' then moved in and out of rest position. Once you get the hang of it you'll be able to create incredibly complicated pictures with little effort. I use this method a lot, rather than punch out new cards – saving that method for small motifs. This method can usually be used on the Duo 80, but this isn't always the case, so check it with your own machine.

Tension I usually have the back bed at least one stitch size lower than the front bed. This tends to pull the purl side of the garment in a little and stops some show through. Just remember that you knit two rows of trimming colour and then two rows of background colour. However, there's something else which is best remembered. When the Fair Isle part of your garment is finished, you need to continue with the two colours, otherwise the thickness of the garment will be uneven, so keep pushers in the '1 up 1 down' formation, change colour and knit two rows.

The above setting is for yarn on the thin side such as one end of 2/30s industrial. If you want to use 4-ply, then usually you need to use alternate needles – but not always, of course. The pusher arrangement remains in the same '1 up, 1 down' formation. When you're knitting stitch patterns, but not picture patterns, pushers are the things that create the fantastic stitch patterns for which the Passap is so famous.

Welcome help

If you live in the UK and have bought a second-hand Passap 4600 Motor or have lost the original manual, Alice can supply a photocopy and the cost is £4.50. Please also request a large list of her books and products including her pusher-aligning tool (PAT). An sae would be appreciated, please. Your letters and e-mails are always very welcome and here are contact details for readers who would like to get in touch with Alice direct.

Orange is for general double bed knitting.

Black is for single bed knitting or where there are many gaps between the needles or stitches. The black stripper comes in two parts and this cuts the cost of replacing. The blade is the vulnerable part that gets nicked by rough handling and knitting.

Blue is for heavier or difficult yarn. These strippers push the knitted fabric down a little bit further and so help to knit the stitches off cleanly. However, even blue strippers won't help if the yarn is thick and coarse. A hard, unyielding yarn will never make a satisfactory garment on the Passap. You need a Bond for that job! If you're inexperienced, it's better to start winding five or six ends of 2/30s. This will give a beautifully soft fabric. Your fabric will then be totally unique and I've made many jumpers using this method. People then ask me, "where did you buy that yarn?" It's best to knit at a slower pace when using thicker yarns and I often use a motor,

Use it as it stands, without spending a small fortune on it because the speed is even and less jerky. When casting off, make certain that you do a really loose cast-off.

Combs and weights The Passap is designed not to need either combs or weights, except when using the U70; U80 or U100(E) attachments. If you've a choice, the weights from the U80 & U100(E) are better than those from the U70.

THUMBS DOWN

In the Duo 80 instruction book, there are mittens without thumbs. I made a pair for myself a few years ago and they're very good, even without thumbs.

Pattern Cast on 22/22 for rib. Remember the rule to have last N on back bed at right and last N on FB at left. Don't forget edge springs! Use orange strippers, N/N, stitch size 3/3, rack 1 N to left. K 1 row, rack 1 N to right, K 1 row. (Cast on is complete.) K 30 rows. Change to EX/EX, K 80 rows. Change to N/CX, K 30 rows. Dec 1/1 st at each end of every 2nd row (don't forget the edge springs) until 10/10 sts rem. Either cast off and start again, or reverse the knitting, inc 1/1 st every other row as before until complete.

PATTERN IDEAS

Here's a fantastic stitch to try with just 30/30 Ns.

Yarn 2/30s used double.

Stitch size 4/4.

To the rescue

Dear Alice

It's now a year since I wrote to you in despair. I thought I would never be able to get started on my lovely Passap. I'm now pleased to tell you that everything has started to fall into place. I made up my mind that I would not be beaten when I realised that I wasn't on my own any more. I'm still learning and will be for years to come, but every time I now do something wrong, it's another lesson learnt. I read everything I can lay my hands on regarding the Passap and, through your articles in the magazine, have made a very good friend. Thanks once again; I'm sure that without your help I would have given up. Kind regards from a very grateful reader.

Part 6

Lace & cable

In the March issue we looked at punch or thread lace, so this time we'll combine lace and cables

Electronic machines can of course choose the overall width of the pattern, so are not limited as to the width of either lace or cable. On the other hand punchcard machines are governed by the 24-stitch punchcard format, or 30 stitches for fine gauge machines. The thing to look for is a lace pattern with two repeats across the card, or a 12-stitch lace pattern. Then, the other 12 stitches can be allocated to the cable. Well, it won't be hard to find such a pattern and the first one that springs to mind is the old favourite Card 18G or 21G for Brother and Card L10 for Silver Reed and Knitmaster. You could, of course, cover the holes on the right hand side of the card with Sellotape, but you'll find it's easier to punch another card, with the lace pattern confined to the 12 columns on the left.

The needle set-up is as follows:-

Lace 0 Cable

As you can see, needles 3 and 10 on the right of centre 0 are pushed back to A (non-working) position. We suggest that you knit a welt or hem first and then a couple of rows in stocking stitch. It's always a good idea to do this before starting to knit lace, just in case you drop a stitch at the start! Next transfer the stitches from needles 3 and 10 to the adjacent needles and push the empty ones back to A (non-working) position. Unless you're doing one panel only, the 24-needle set-up will be repeated across all working stitches, so you'll also put corresponding needles out of work. It's helpful to mark these out-of-work needles with a Chinagraph pencil. A complete lace pattern requires eight rows of actual knitting, so it's a good idea to cross your cables on the 7th and 8th rows of each pattern.

SEPARATE CARRIAGES

Let's take machines with a separate lace carriage first (see Sample 1).

Step 1 Work as usual with the lace carriage and 2 rows for main carriage until you've knitted 6 rows of stocking stitch, with RC showing 006.

Step 2 Work next set of lace transfers, the last of a complete pattern.

Step 3 Before you knit the next row with the main carriage, push A (non-working) position needles back to B (working) position then knit 7th row.

Step 4 Drop yarn off needles 3, 10 and so on and push them back to A (non-working) position. (This gives a little extra yarn to help with the crossover.)

Step 5 Cross 6 cable needles, 3 over 3 and push all 6 needles to HP.

Step 6 Knit 8th row with main carriage and repeat Steps 1 to 6.

ONE-STROKE CARRIAGES

For one-stroke lace carriages, it's a little different. Since this is fashion lace, you'll make the transfers in the usual way without yarn in the feeder. When it comes to knitting the crossover rows, you won't be able to use D or E (holding) position to make it easier. So, work the 7th row as above, drop the yarn from needles 3, 10 and so on and push them back to A position. If you can cross your stitches and they'll knit off in B position without undue strain, you've no problems. If not then before crossing the stitches, carefully undo the six cable stitches, for one row only. Cross the stitches and then just as carefully knit them by hand with the strand of yarn just undone. Replace in B position and knit the 8th row.

VARIATIONS

There are other variations you might choose and here are a few suggestions.

Tip 1 A narrower lace panel would allow for a wider cable or, by omitting the two out-of-work needles, you could have an 8-stitch cable. However check that there's not too much strain on the needles when crossing the stitches.

Tip 2 For electronic machines, just mark the Mylar sheet or program with the PPD so the lace pattern occupies the 12 squares, or however many in your chosen design. You can program as many blank stitches as required to the right of these 12 squares to have room for your cable. For example, your width might be 1 to 12 for your lace on the Mylar sheet, but you can program the pattern as 1 to 30 if you want, as long as there's not another pattern marked on the extra squares at the right! The same also goes for the PPD.

Tip 3 Sample 2 shows a wider lace design with the cable and this was knitted originally on the Brother 910 from Sheet 10-33 of the basic set of Mylar sheets. It is also Stitchworld Pattern No.177 for the 950i. The width of the lace pattern is actually from 1 to 34, but it was programmed as 56 stitches, allowing space either side of the cable.

COLOUR CHANGERS

Previously we mentioned briefly introducing colour into lace knitting. Of course, if it's only for a couple of rows, you may just as well change the yarn in the feeder by hand. However, the best way is to use a colour changer, so that's what we'll look at now.

Colour changers vary, but most of them are fitted to the left-hand side of the machine and that's also the side from which we work the lace carriage, so some adjustments have to be made. There's no changing the position of the colour changer - it has to be on the left. So let's turn things round and put the lace carriage on the rails at the right. This in turn means the main carriage has to be on the left and that's where it needs to be to make use of the colour changer.

However, if we left it at that, the needles would all transfer in the opposite direction, since the lace carriage is also moving from the 'wrong' side as far as the stitch pattern is concerned. You might be lucky and find that you've quite a nice design anyway, but it isn't very likely! Since we've altered direction for the lace carriage, we also have to alter the punchcard direction, by turning the card over onto its back - from side to side that is, not top to bottom. If you wish you can also transfer appropriate markings such as the starting line, use of main carriage and so on. On the electronic, put up Pattern Selection Lever 1.

Now we've things set up and ready to go, the most effective patterns are those in which the lace forms scallops, or at least a wavy line. You'll obviously see which are suitable from the pattern illustrations. You can choose to put in a coloured stripe (see the article on Fashion Lace in Dec 2013) or knit bands of colour such as two or three pattern repeats, then a change of colour.

A 'feather and fan' type pattern in bands of sugar almond colours is attractive, or an alternative is to stick to two shades. Grey and white is elegant or you may prefer a light and dark shade of any colour. If you've a range of shades in one colour, start with the darkest shade and work up to the lightest one near the face. You can work out how many rows in each band according to the number of rows in the garment piece, but nobody says they have to be split into even bands!

AVOIDING TIGHT SEAMS

When you use the colour changer and have several alternating colours or wide bands, you must be careful. In carrying a colour up the side of the work to use in another band, leave enough yarn in the gap so it doesn't pull up at the side seam. You need to experiment a little, but an easy way is to put a needle into B position, a few needles away from the side of the actual knitting.

How far away will depend on the distance from the last time you used the yarn, which is why you need to experiment. Knit the row, then release the yarn from the needle and push it back to A position. This will give the extra yarn needed to run up the side. If you're not happy with this method, or hooking it round a sinker post or needle on the ribber bed, you can break the yarn and restart it, leaving long enough ends to either darn in later on, or work into the seam when sewing up.

There will be obvious problems in using a colour changer with one stroke lace carriages, but the same effects can be achieved with a little more work, by changing the colours in the feeder by hand. So there's plenty of scope for creating your own lacy garments in colours, either delicate or bold. Until next time, happy knitting! ■

A friend of mine is a keen member of a hand knitting group. Recently, she showed me some fancy new 'yarn' with which she was knitting. It was from one of the more upmarket yarn spinners and quite expensive. The 'yarn' was actually a loosely knitted strip, constructed from a few ends of brushed yarn, which was really not that special. However, when it was knitted the effect was quite something.

The method of hand knitting was to cast on just a couple of stitches and knit in garter stitch. However, rather than use the whole thickness of yarn, just a few strands from the edge of the knitted strip were used. The resulting fabric was a twisted strip with a ruffled edge - very chic, very now and very eye catching for a scarf. Not being one to let an opportunity to enlist a new recruit slip by, I immediately offered to knit some strips of loose fabric for my friend to try. Before long she'd borrowed a machine and was rattling off strips, to knit scarves with, at an alarming rate.

WINE COLOURED SCARF

This one was knitted over 40 needles, releasing every other stitch at intervals and allowing it to run. It was hand-knitted up over two stitches in garter stitch, but this time using the centre of the folded fabric producing a double ruffled edge. At the end of the hand knitting, you may need a length of yarn to cast off the two stitches.

MUSTARD COLOURED SCARF

It's important to knit the fabric fairly loosely and you could use a chunky machine if you have one. If not, try every other needle and if it needs to

Points to note

- Use a fairly thick pair of knitting needles such as 5 to 6 mm
- It's a bit of guess work as to how much to knit, so be prepared to hook up again if it's too short
- Be sure to release the same stitches each time when using the drop stitch method be even looser, knit on every needle and periodically drop off every other stitch and allow it to run, producing a very loose fabric. You can have an enjoyable half hour sorting through odds and ends of fine yarns. Mix the colours and textures and try them out before deciding which looks best. This scarf was knitted over 20 working needles (every other needle knitting) and hand knitted up using the selvedge of the fabric. If you don't much fancy hand knitting, you can achieve a similar effect by manually knitting over two needles on the machine, with a few needles in between left out of work. Simply bring the needles forward so that the stitches are behind the latches. Lay a few threads from the edge of the fabric over the needle and pull through.

GREY COLOURED SCARF

This scarf was knitted on the chunky machine on Tension 10 over eight needles. This mix of mohair and snarl effect yarn produces a narrow scarf when knitted from the selvedge. You would probably need this to be fairly long to wrap around a few times and trail in an alluring way, otherwise it could look a bit mean. ■

Hand in hand

Mixing hand and machine knitting is Joan Lafferty's theme this month, because she's had a real mixed bag of knitting

You may remember me often talking about knitting blankets for premature babies and moaning about the fact that the edges curled. I managed to partially combat the curling by doing a shell edging in crochet, rather than the crab stitch I previously used.

Quite by chance, I had a phone call from a lady who belongs to a knitting club. Together with members of her club she's been knitting a variety of garments, including blankets, for a local baby unit. Would I like their pattern? Yes, I certainly would! Within a couple of days I received not only the blanket pattern, but also patterns for a dress, vest and hat for premature babies. The blanket and hat are for half Fisherman's rib, while the dress and vest are for punch tuck rib, following a Mary Weaver pattern.

HUNTING GROUND

The blanket can be knitted in 3-ply, 4-ply or two ends of 2/30s, so I had a hunt in the cupboard and found a part cone in off white, in what appeared to be about a 3-ply. It had been given to me and there was no label inside to give any idea of the type of yarn, the ply or the manufacturer. Since the ladies of the club were obviously well versed in knitting these garments, I didn't do my usual tension piece. After all, it didn't matter if the blanket was an inch or two out in length or width. All appeared to go well with the knitting, I remembered (or thought I did!) all the right things when working in rib – lots of weight particularly on the edges and using the metal hangers, which my students used to like to call 'the figure sevens'.

“Although I'd never heard this term before, it's delightfully descriptive!”

LATCH OFF

Once knitted, the instruction said 'chain off' and although I'd never heard this term before, it's delightfully descriptive! I would have said 'latch off', which also describes the tool to be used. I had trouble here, not because of anything to do with the pattern or the knitting machine, but because my eyesight makes it difficult to see the gate pegs and the needles when doing this operation. So after about 20 stitches and dropping three of them, I took it off on waste yarn and latched it off by hand in the comfort of my armchair! By the way, an almost identical edge can be worked by hand using a crochet hook instead of a latch tool and here's how to do it, both from the plain and purl sides (see Fig. 1).

I then noticed, about five rows from the cast on edge, the work had tucked over about six needles. I know this can happen, often due to lack of weight, but usually the carriage jams. Having got so far, including my chain cast off, I didn't relish undoing the whole thing. Instead, I pulled a thread just above the mistake and picked up the loops. It gave me the somewhat laborious task of casting off, again by hand!

As I did this, I realised that the yarn, which looked quite smooth on the cone, seemed to have developed a 'whiskery' finish when knitted. It was also harsher than I expected acrylic to be. Could it be wool? It was also a little hard for a delicate skin, so I washed the blanket in liquid soap. It came up much softer and the 'whiskers' vanished, but this confirmed my idea that it was indeed wool. Not that this would matter if it was going to a mother at home, she could hand wash it, as I did. However I'm sure the hospitals have no time for this and it all goes into the washing machine. I shall consult my friend who takes these items to the hospital. If they don't want it, I guess it will do for a doll!

MOTHER OF INVENTION

No sooner had I put my blanket away, than I'd a request for help from a lady I know. She's an avid hand knitter and a colleague where she works produced eight 50g balls of mohair and asked if she could knit a bolero. My friend hunted in the charity shops for a suitable pattern, to no avail. So she asked me if I'd look through my old pattern books (I have heaps), but I couldn't find one either.

Necessity is often the mother of invention and it happens that several issues of MKM have had patterns for this kind of garment, which are mostly with ties and very short. I suggested that we could probably adapt one for our purpose. I've done this sort of thing before, usually when someone presents me with some yarn that will not knit on the machine, or for a person who is too large for 200 needles!

BEND IT

My method is based on the Knit Leader and the absolute requisite is a broadsheet newspaper. (Fortunately my local paper has not yet shrunk in size!) I draw out a Back, just as I would for the Knit Leader. The lady in question wanted short sleeves and the pattern in MKM supplied these. Then my colleague and I decided a 'proper' bolero would have rounded fronts, so out came my 'bendy ruler'. I don't know the correct name for this, but it's a square rubber tube with a metal core, which can be bent to shape armholes, tops of set-in sleeves and so on. In this case, it was perfect for the curves on the Fronts. Let me add a word of warning – please keep it out of the hands of children. One of my students let her little boy loose on the bendy ruler and he did so much bending that he broke the interior! If you don't have a bendy ruler then a saucer or tea plate makes a good substitute.

Next I asked my colleague to knit a small tension piece. There was no need to do the 60 stitches and 60 rows, because we don't have scales for hand knitting, just a ruler. So she knitted 20 stitches and 20 rows, which measured two inches wide and three inches long. (We both still prefer to knit in inches.) So after a little multiplication, we were all ready to draw out our shapes on the newspaper. Having done this, it only required a little arithmetic to work out how many stitches and rows would be required to knit up as far as the armhole. Now we've reached the reason for using a big newspaper to draw out the shape. Placing the knitted portion on the drawn pattern, an experienced knitter can see how many stitches to »

Warm thoughts

Although Joan's original article and this letter from Kathleen Kinder were published back in November 2006, it's brought back memories of the lovely surprise I had when I opened my e-mail box to see a letter from Kathleen. She'd read Joan's article about knitting baby blankets and shared her thoughts with us. With no further ado, here's Kathleen's letter in full with my sincere thanks to both Joan and Kathleen for taking such an interest in the magazine and giving me so much support over the years. Kathleen was recently widowed and I hope, in time, she'll feel able to share her vast knowledge with us all once more. Ed

Dear Anne
I've been out of machine knitting for several years now for a number of reasons. I got rid of my electronic machines but kept the Knitmaster/Silver 700 punchcard machine plus ribber and accessories. What really brought me back was the fact that our daughter announced she was to have her first baby around her 40th birthday, so down came the machine, ribber and accessories from the loft and I'm knitting again - even beginning to think of new designs and ways to do this and that.

I've joined the Newbritknits MK on-line chat group where Maggie Andrews has already been briefing me regarding what is happening in the world of machine knitting. I've even begun to take a more active role in the Knitting & Crochet Guild once more. After all, I am one of the founder members, one of the few remaining who were at the inaugural meeting in 1978. Finally, I decided to take Machine Knitting Monthly again, so I must be 'back' in every sense.

Now I'm writing to 'Dear Anne' in answer to Joan Lafferty who like Anne our Editor, has kept the machine knitting flag flying for so many years and whom I remember meeting a long time ago. As you can imagine, I'm knitting a lot of baby things cast off initially. As the work progresses, we can also keep making this check and I assure you it works!

ADAPTATION

When producing a pattern for hand knitting, a designer has to make it easy to produce the design in print. For example a pattern may say 'dec 1 st at each end of every other row' but it doesn't make a lot of difference to the finished garment if we cast off on the second row, then on the first and so on. All we need to remember is not to take too many liberties! This always reminds me of one of my students, using a charting device and asking how we cast off half a stitch! Obviously knitting is not such an exact science as something such as woodwork, where a millimetre or two one way or the other can make a difference to a joint!

The punchcards were Knitmaster Card 7 (Brother Card 2) and Knitmaster Card 2, which produced a mini honeycomb. In case you are a Brother knitter, which I think Joan is, here are the cards.

From Card 2, you can see what is happening. As one needle in each pair is out of work, you will get an alternating tuck. Card 7 on the other hand has the same needle tucking for two rows and then knitting for two rows.

Actually Joan, I think that pattern would suit your purpose better as it produces a cellular blanket appearance and is springy. If you had realised this, you would have got the same pattern if you had tried the card for non-selective tuck on page 48 of my Machine Knitter's Book of the Ribber Vol 2! I'm now using Card 7 to knit a baby's sleeping bag in 1x1 rib, again with Bramwell Duomagic.

When you are knitting a tuck rib with more than two tucks per sequence, even in a 2-ply, there is a danger of pile-ups of loops on the Japanese machines with ribbers.

These loops drag down and will not knit off, even with 2-ply and 3-ply yarn.
Sometimes the needle needs changing. Needle faults appear in double bed tuck knitting when the needles knit away happily on the single bed. Sometimes it is the weighting.

Occasionally the machine objects to stranded yarn, which can create havoc when it separates. I have found that two-row tucks are best with (single strand) 3-plys anyway and I shall stay with those for baby knitting.

Happy knitting to you all.
Kathleen Kinder

checked my e-mails and there was a request for more hand and machine knitting! I've mentioned several times that I've made tableaux of The Last Supper. I've done four so far and this request was for a fifth. Some of the jackets require garter stitch and I now have a garter carriage. However, I work two rows in a dark colour and then two light rows. It would mean a lot of changing colours and hardly worth all the effort since the Back is only 22 stitches wide and the Fronts only 10 stitches each.

So although I'm a machine-knitting fanatic, I'm glad I learned to hand knit at the age of five!
Crochet came a couple of years later, happily, because I've been teaching a machine-knitting colleague to crochet in between all the other odd jobs. This has given me great pleasure because this lady is the quickest learner that I've ever had. I don't say that lightly, having taught crochet at Adult Education classes for about eight years! ■

Abbreviations

These are our standard abbreviations.

alt = alternate(ly); beg = beginning; ch = chain; cm = centimetres; cont = continue(ing); dc = double crochet; dec = decrease(ing); foll = following; g = grams; HP = holding position; in = inch(es); inc = increase(ing); K = knit; mm = millimetres; MT = main tension; MT-1, MT-2, MT-3 = one, two, three full sizes tighter than main tension; MT+1, MT+2, MT+3 = one, two, three full sizes looser than main tension; MY = main yarn; N(s) = needle(s); NWP = non working position; P = purl; patt = pattern; RC = row counter; rem = remain(ing); rep = repeat; ss = stitch size; st(s) = stitch(es); st st = stocking stitch; tog = together; UWP = upper working position; WP = working position; WY = waste yarn.

Machine conversion

Here's the formula to convert any of our patterns. First we need a pattern to work, so let's suppose you'd like to knit Naomi, Anne Baker's chunky pattern on Page 27 of the October issue. You don't have a chunky model and want to use a tuck stitch pattern on your standard gauge machine. It's essential to knit a tension square in the yarn and stitch pattern you want to use and measure it carefully over 10 cm. Let's suppose your 4-ply tuck stitch pattern tension is 24 sts and 60 rows to 10 cm. The tension of Anne's pattern (the one you want to convert) is 14 sts and 32 rows to 10 cm. Take the number of sts to 10 cm in your tension square (24) and divide by the pattern stitch tension (14). $24 \div 14 = 1.71$. Now multiply this number (1.71) by the number of sts given in the pattern. Let's assume you're knitting the first size and Anne says 'Push 72 Ns at centre of machine to WP' so $72 \times 1.71 = 123.12$. Add an extra stitch for making up, so round it up to 124 and this is the number you cast on. As a double check $124 \div 2.4$ (your stitch tension) = 51.66 cm and the diagram says measurement A is 51.25 cm. Knit the welt you'd like then do the same thing with the rows. Take the number of rows to 10 cm in your tension square (60) and divide by the pattern row tension (32). $60 \div 32 = 1.87$. Now multiply this number (1.87) by the number of rows given in the pattern. Anne's pattern says 'K 120 rows' so $120 \times 1.87 = 224.40$. Round it up or down as you think fit. As a double check, $226 \div 6 = 37.66$ and the measurement diagram says 37.5. You'll need to make some common-sense decisions about shaping, but that's the nuts and bolts of converting a pattern.

Mock rib instructions

Used for welts, cuffs, neckbands and other edges on single bed machines without a ribber. Push the number of main bed needles given in pattern to working position. Push every alternate needle back to non-working position for a 1x1 rib or every third needle back to non-working position for a 2x1 rib. It may be necessary to reduce this number by one needle at one or both edges to keep the rib even. (Increase the stitches after the mock rib has been worked to give the same number as the pattern.)

Using main tension and waste yarn, cast on and knit a few rows ending with carriage at left. Set row counter at 000. Using at least two full sizes tighter than main tension, knit the number of rows given in pattern for rib. Using three full sizes looser than this tension, knit one row. (This loose row gives a neat fold line.) Return to two full sizes tighter than main tension and knit the same number of rows as before. Push empty needles from non-working to working position and make a hem by placing loops of first row worked in main yarn evenly along the row. Make sure that each empty needle holds a loop to prevent a row of holes across the work. Unravel waste yarn when work has been removed from machine. After garment has been blocked to size, insert a metal welt bar or thin, clean piece of wood through the hem and pull firmly downwards to draw the stitches of mock rib closer together. Set the stitches by steaming lightly on the wrong side, if pressing instructions permit.

Quick cast-on

This method can be used not only for speed but also when the edges are either hidden or to be gathered by pulling up yarn end. With carriage at right, push alt Ns to WP. Use tension dial setting and either MY or WY as given in pattern. K 1 row. Carefully hook on the cast-on comb. Push remaining alt Ns to WP and K 1 row. The carriage is back at right. Cont as given in pattern instructions. When knitting is removed from machine, pull yarn end at cast-on edge to gather up sts or, for a straight edge, pull yarn end to remove any slack and fasten off. Your manual will describe this method of casting on although it may be called by a different name and may not use a cast-on comb. ■
